

"I have pursued my passion for photography since 2016 when I took early retirement from my career as a Geography academic at Rhodes University, South Africa and Högskolan Väst, Sweden.

I guess you'd now call me a semi-professional photographer though I still use my mapping skills and online teaching experience."