

Thalassa Guest Cottage

2 nights accommodation for 2 people. Self-catering, meals can be arranged in advance and at an extra cost. Pre-booking is essential and subject to availability.

Situated approximately 9 km from St Francis Bay, in Rebelsrus private nature reserve, Thalassa Guest Cottage is nestled against a fynbos covered dune, a couple of steps from rock pools which are perfect for swimming, the environment fosters a sense of peace and tranquillity.

Start your day with an early morning cup of tea or coffee whilst perusing the sea for dolphins and whales from the bench at the pond. Evening is a time for sundowners while watching the sun set over the distant hills to the west and scanning the bays for the resident otters and the arrival of Southern Right whales between June and September each year.

Thalassa Guest Cottage, located on the ground floor below the main house, is simply furnished in a casual beach style and is mostly open plan. The main bedroom contains a queen size bed and leads off the sitting area with access to the lawn.

The small back bedroom, with a single bed is a bathed in sun in the morning. A kitchenette allows for private morning tea and coffee, with minimal cooking facilities (microwave and convection air oven).

The living area opens onto the front lawn with views and access to a shale beach. The bathroom contains a shower, bath, toilet and basin. Waking here in the mornings to the smell and sound of the ocean so close, gives one the instant sensation of being on holiday.

Step out onto the lawn and into the sun to enjoy a morning tea or coffee, or go a few steps further and the shale beach will provide instant delights with all the various shells brought in by the tide. A chain of rock pools provide for endless entertainment, and a braai with ocean views is available.