

Tom Jeffery is a landscape photographer based in Makhanda.

He hopes that his photos of the city show the beauty that remains despite the challenges the city faces.

With his seascapes, he hopes to help people feel our connections with the natural world.